Short Description

The ALTA is a NON-DJI multirotor, which offers many advantages. Including no geofencing, and a 36MP camera.

Description

The ALTA is BAAM Techs introduction of a non DJI multirotor. After many requests from customers looking for a multirotor that is not hindered by incorrect geofencing, mandatory updates, and limited MP cameras, BAAM Tech developed a new multirotor to fit the need.

The Alta features a 30-minute flight time, a 36MP camera, and a wireless Android based ground station radio. All of this results in a very user-friendly system that can cover very large areas with a highly accurate ground sampling distance.

With the addition of the BAAM Tech PPK system the Alta is a true high accuracy mapping system.

The Alta is also designed for easy transport with folding legs, and props the aircraft will fit in a very small case.
